After hearing on motion of the attorney for the Government in a case involving serious risk defendant will flee;

The Court finds no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of defendant as required.

The Court has considered:

- A. the nature and circumstances of the offense;
- B. the weight of evidence against the defendant;
- C. the history and characteristics of the defendant;
- D. the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or the community.

The Court concludes:

1 A. There is a serious risk that defendant will flee because
2 he intentionally remained in Mexico for the past 6 years
3 despite knowing he had charges pending against him in the 4 United States; it is likely he has contacts in Mexico that
5 would allow him to flee there and avoid prosecution; he has
6 significant financial resources, including resources in
7 foreign bank accounts; he has traveled extensively abroad;
8 he has been a fugitive since the filing of the indictment;
9 the potential sentence in this case is such that defendant
10 might spend the rest of his life - or at least a significant
11 amount of time - in prison.

12 B. Defendant's medical issues can be adequately treated
13 while he is in custody.

14 IT IS ORDERED, for these and the other reasons stated on the 15 record, that defendant be detained prior to trial.

16 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that defendant be confined in a
17 corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from 18 persons awaiting or serving sentences or persons being held in 19 custody pending appeal. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that defendant be 20 afforded reasonable opportunity for private consultation with his 21 counsel. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that defendant be delivered to 22 the United States Marshal for the purpose of appearance in 23 connection with a court proceeding.
